

A photograph of a University of Florida campus. In the foreground, there is a paved walkway lined with green grass, palm trees, and black lampposts. In the background, there are large, multi-story brick buildings with white window frames and balconies. The scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting late afternoon or early morning. A large, dark teal banner is at the top of the image. A black speech bubble outline is positioned behind the text, with its tail pointing towards the top left.
